DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 1-10,12-21 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that both sets of claims could be conveniently prosecuted. This is not found persuasive because the traversal does not address the reasons for restriction.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-10,12-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The preamble of claim 1 specifies a "device, characterized in that it comprises at least one coil..". However, dependent claims 3,4,7-21, refer to a method according to claim 1. It is indefinite if applicant is intending claim 1 to define a device or method as the dependent claims suggest.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1744

5. Claims 1,7-10, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by USP 5,516,670 ('670).

For purposes of determining novelty or unobviousness the elected claims 1-10,12-21, are being treated as method claims.

The '670 patent discloses a method of introducing reagent, genetic material (DNA) into biological cells by using magnetic particles in solution which the biological cells and exposing the particles to a non-uniform magnetic field and optionally pulsing the field to cause the particles to move to and penetrate the cell walls. The magnetic field is created by a the device shown in figure 1 comprising at least one coil (34). See col.1, lines 10-16; col.2, lines 56-67; col.3, lines 22 thru col.4, line 24; col5, line 34-col.7, line 55.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

Art Unit: 1744

4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

7. Claims 2,3,14,18-21, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over USP 5,516,670 ('670).

The embodiments of claims 18-21 were addressed in the rejection above.

Claims 2,3,14, specify particular magnetic field strengths. The '670 patent discloses the use of an alternating magnetic field and a field strength of 500 gauss (col7, lines 9-12).

The courts has held that, "[W]here the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, it is not inventive to discover the optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation." In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 456, 105 USPQ 233, 235 (CCPA 1955). Accordingly, the embodiments of claims 2,3,14, are considered to be the obvious results of routine experimentation.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 4,15,16,17, would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The remaining USP references are related to the claimed invention.
